

Thank you; I have received the replacement sensor and will install it (in series, as you point out) shortly.

I am delighted with the heat pump's performance, which much exceeds my expectations or even best hopes. Although admittedly I am still running it 24hrs and with no thermal blanket I am amazed how it maintains a rock solid 30 degrees regardless. I do realise what this is costing me in electricity, but even that is quite a bit less than I feared. I shall be getting the thermal blanket from the guys you suggested next week, and will experiment to see what are the optimum operating hours and settings.

I see from your website home page that you are not short of testimonials, but please feel free to add me as a highly satisfied customer if you wish. I will reply very positively to any enquiries I receive by email.

As you see from the above, I am becoming enamoured of this heat pump and the enhanced pool experience it provides, so much so that I dread being without it. So I now ask whether you offer any maintenance/service contract that I may subscribe to?

Thanks again
